Hello,

I'm Joe from Sales, and I need to come clean about something serious.
I downloaded a bunch of customer data onto a flash drive to keep up with deadlines while I was away. But now, I can't find the flash drive anywhere. I swear
I had it in my backpack, but it's vanished.

I know I should report this, so what's the plan? And can we keep this between us for now?

Thanks,

Joe Duncan
